Brookmere Reading Circle

November newsletter

Fictional demonstration | Issue 08 | November 2026

This month we are sharing short stories, opening our book swap to neighbours, and planning the winter reading list. New readers are welcome at every session.

A place to read together

Our circle meets twice a month in the community room. Each session begins with a short reading, followed by an informal discussion. You can read the whole book, a few pages, or simply come along to listen.

For November, bring a short story that stayed with you. Choose a passage that takes no more than three minutes to read aloud. We will leave time for everyone who wants to contribute.

Dates for your diary

Date and time	Activity	What to bring
7 Nov at 10 am	Short story morning	One short passage
14 Nov at 2 pm	Community book swap	Up to three books
21 Nov at 10 am	Winter reading choices	Two suggestions

How the book swap works

Bring up to three books in good condition and choose the same number to take home. Please leave books with missing pages or heavy marking at home. You do not need to bring a book to join the conversation.

Volunteers will set out separate tables for fiction, non-fiction and younger readers. Remaining books will stay in the club cupboard until the next swap.

A small reading challenge

Try an author you have never read before. At the next meeting, tell us what drew you to the book and whether you would read another by the same writer. A one-minute recommendation is enough.

Club notes and next steps

Keeping the circle easy to join

Fictional demonstration | Brookmere Reading Circle | November 2026

You can join a meeting without signing up for a full season. Tell the welcome volunteer if you need a quieter seat or a large-print copy of the reading sheet.

Volunteer rota

Session	Welcome desk	Room setup
7 November	Morgan	Alex
14 November	Riley	Sam
21 November	Alex	Morgan

Before you arrive

The community room opens fifteen minutes before each session. Bring your own drink in a covered cup. We provide spare paper and pencils, but you may prefer to use your own notebook.

If you borrow a club book, write the title and your first name on the lending sheet. Return it at the following meeting, or tell a volunteer if you need more time.

Choosing the winter books

We will choose three books at the final November meeting. Suggestions should be available in paperback or from a public library. Please include one sentence about why the group might enjoy your choice.

We aim for a mix of familiar and new voices. Shorter books are welcome, and we will agree the reading pace together before the next newsletter is prepared.

Help with the next issue

Send a short review or a recommendation of up to 100 words to the newsletter volunteer at a meeting. Include the book title and author, and avoid revealing the ending.

Our next issue will include the winter reading list, confirmed meeting dates and a selection of member recommendations.

Contact the circle

For this fictional sample only: hello@brookmere.example. The club, people, dates and activities in this document were created for a document reconstruction demonstration.